

Wind Cave Elk
Information and Requirements for Participation
As a Trained Volunteer

Summary of Volunteer Responsibilities: The National Park Service (NPS) seeks volunteers to assist in the reduction of elk within Wind Cave National Park to address Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) in the herd. Volunteers will be part of an effort to determine if the reduction of elk density can result in a reduction in disease prevalence. Volunteers will be formed into teams that will locate and shoot and assist in field processing elk under the direction of a NPS Team Leader.

To participate, volunteers are required to commit to 5 consecutive days (Monday –Friday) of an available week they select between mid-November and February. Elk meat that has tested as non-detected for CWD will be made available to the participating volunteers at the conclusion of their volunteer experience.

To qualify for this opportunity the following criteria need to be met:

- Provide a pictured proof of identity (driver's license, passport).
- Be a United States citizen and a resident of South Dakota.
